

Charity Overhaul Goes On Ballot in November

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn's proposal to overhaul the County Charities Department for greater efficiency and economy is set to go before the voters as a charter amendment on the November ballot.

For many months Hahn has strongly advocated dividing the cumbersome Charities Department into separate units with direct lines of authority.

He formalized his proposal in a Board of Supervisors' motion of Jan. 4, 1966.

The top-level County Efficiency and Economy Commission, after considerable study, endorsed the Supervisor's recommendation and has been asked to prepare the ballot arguments for the Charter amendment.

THE AMENDMENT would

Road Work Scheduled In Carson

A $3,500 improvement project on Alameda Street between Madison and Washington streets and on Santa Fe Avenue from Warnock Avenue to 223rd Street has been scheduled, Supervisor Burton W. Chace said today. The work is slated to begin this week.

The work will consist of constructing concrete sidewalk on the east side of Alameda Street and on both sides of Santa Fe Avenue within the limits of the project.

Supervisor Chace said the projects are a part of the County Road Department's road maintenance program designed to keep the county roadway system in top operational condition.

"The completed improvements," Chace said, "will increase safety for both pedestrians and motorists in this area."

Approve New GI Bill

While most of the interest shown in the so-called new GI Bill of Rights has been concerned with educational benefits, there are certain little-noted provisions that give the four million veterans affected under the new law certain Civil Service job preferences. Mort Webster, manager of VA's Southern California regional office has announced.

Five points are added to their scores in Civil Service tests and 10 points if they were disabled or were awarded the Purple Heart, Webster said.

In addition to the actual 5 or 10 points being added to Civil Service test scores, those veterans who have served since January, 1955, are eligible for veterans preference in job selection. Prior to the enactment of the new GI Bill, veterans who served since 1955 did not receive veterans job preference even though they rated high on the tests.

Principal Named To School Group

Dr. Carl Ahee, principal of Torrance High School, will head an evaluation committee for the Western Association of Schools and Colleges next April.

The committee will evaluate Loara High School in Anaheim April 10 through 12.

Fireman App. Morris A. Sosa, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sosa of 2343 Maricopa St., is scheduled to sail to the North Atlantic Aug. 4, aboard the guided missile frigate, USS Harry E. Yarnell.

During her deployment, the Yarnell will participate in anti-submarine warfare operations with other member countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).
